

Welcome to AsIs Technologies

The Home of a Unique IT Company

We are a dedicated team of people that believe that no company should have to suffer because of their size. To this end, we develop and customise software that is generally considered a "want" rather than a "need" by smaller companies, if only due to price.

Our aim is to get you up and running with world class software to help make your company run more smoothly, or with easy to manage web sites that allow you to spend more time on content than site technicalities.

Feel free to poke around our site to get a feel for what we do. You will note that our portfolio is quite small and generic. Don't see this as a negative: we believe in keeping quiet about our clients for their benefit. We know you will appreciate this when you become one!
